ARDA is an occasional and irregular publication of the North American Variant Banks. It is edited and published by Rod Walker, 1273 Crest Dr., Encinitae CA 92024, who is Custodian of NAVB-West, the NAVB's central archive depository. The purpose of ARDA is to carry information on NAVB holdinge and activities, to publish Diplomacy variants, and to promote the variant branch of the hobby generally. Thie is Pandemonium Publication #748.

ARDA is sent free to various hobby people and will trade for other Diplomacy veriant publications so long as the editor is aware that we don't achieve stunning regularity.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: 5c per page (or loc per shest printed on both sides) plus poetage and envelope. Inquire regarding back Please maks checks payable to R. C. Walker ... US funds.

INQUIRIES are accepted. Other Custodians have priority. All others are on a time-available basic and must (MUST) bs accompanied by a business size, stamped, self-addressed envelope. GAMES may be purchesed from us. Check our catalogue issue (#7, $1.25) for prices.

Thie iesue is our firet experiment in producing ARDA in digest format, reduced print. Thie will enabls us to get at least 50% more material within the space of 10 sheets (1 oz.). Let'e see how it comee out....

We bays e lot of ground to cover, and thish may run into overtime. So be it. 1 plan to cover: (1) catalogue updates, (2) MN#/ARDA# correspondencee list (continued from #4), and (3) at least three complete variante.

CATALOGUE UPDATE

The last NAVB Cetalogue was ARDA #7, printed on 22 June 1981. It ie $1.25 from me. It was updated in ARDA #8. This ie a further update. See #7 for format and prices. Plsaes note that gamee whose numbers are preceded by an esterisk (*) are not availeble from NAVB; they are included only to create an ARDA number to correspond to an exleting Miller Number.

NEW MILLER NUMBER DESIGNATORS

After Greg Costikyan proposed using the first element of the NAVB Cstalogue (ARDA) Numbers as new Miller Number designators, and after I gave up opposing the ides, I began preparing a cross-index listing of the old designators and the new ones. This is not strictly necessary, but useful for historical purposes. The cross index ides bogged down because Robert Sacks...the most knowledgesble person in the hobby for certain periods of MN activity...refused to aid in gathering information. He also refused even to acknowledge my requests for help in obtaining back issues of his MNCzine, LORD OF HOSTS. Thanks to Walt Buchanan, I now have a complete set of LoH 1-12 and, in consequence, a not-too-incomplete cross index. Gaps in the list below exist because I do not have a copy of the game and insufficient information on which to classify it. Column OMND is Old Miller Number Designator; NMND is New same. Notes are included where necessary. The first cross-index ran through co. We will start there.

Well, that takes care of the thrilling statistics for this issue. I hope we don't have to go through that again. Now, as for the rest of thish...we will have fun and games. My plan is to reprint three games...two from recent issues of ANDUIN and one from a long-ago issue of LORD OF HOSTS.

ANDUINs 7 and 8 (15 Feb and 15 Mar 1982) centained two complete new variants: Africa '82 by Ken Halpern and España Visja by Brian Lorber. Neither game is a real innovation in the sense that each is mostly regular Diplomacy on a new board. However, there are very few games set in Africa and (until now) none at all in our files set in mediaeval Spain. E.V. particularly appears to have real problems of balance but of course the games will need to be played some before it can be determined whether they play well, poorly, or somewhere in between. You may as well regard the latter as España Vieja I, since I already have a draft going of a new 8-player version of the same idea; maybe 9-player.

Back in 1975, Robert Sacks published in LORD OF HOSTS a new Middle-earth variant, The Downfall of the Lord of the Rings and the Return of the King II. Several rule changes and GM adjudications were made during the course of a single postal section of the game in LOH, so that (insofar as I know) no single composite edition of the rules exists. I have up until now never seen a copy of the original rules, and have spent a couple of fruit-less years trying to get Bob to loan or sell me a copy. The game first appeared in LoH 5/6 end changee to the rulea appeared in some subacquent issues. It's an interesting game, but there's a aenae of incompleteness about the rules (as we will see). have decided to print the rules es is, with the changes and interpretationa exactly as they appeared. It might be possible, later, to come up with a more complete, definitive edition of thia intereating game.

Maps for the games appear on pages 8-12. Rules and asaorted other things appear on the pages immediately preceding and following the mapa.

ESPAÑA VIEJA

Ken Halpern

The Rules for Diplomacy (copyright 1976, The Avalon Hill Game Co.) will be used.

There are 33 aupply centera; victory ia achieved by posaession of 17 centers. ((This is implied in the original.))

3. The Great Powera are: Aragon, the Balearea, Castile,

France, Leon, and Portugal.

Opening positions:

A Barcelona, A Saragoasa, F Tortosa. ARAGON:

THE BALEARES: F Iviza, F Majorce, F Minorca.

CASTILE: F Bilbao*, A Burgos, A Madrid, A Toledo.

FRANCE: (A or F) Bayonne, (A or F) Narbonne, A Toulouae.

LEON: A Leon, A Salemanca, F Santiago.

PORTUGAL: A Coimbrs, A Oporto, F Lisbon.

"The original game specifiea "Amaya", but there does not appear to be any such place name in Spain. If France places a Fleet in Bsyonne, he must place an Army in Narbonne; if an Army in Bayonne, he must place a Fleet in Narbonne.

The original publication does not specify a starting date. The beat date sesms to be 1221. In that year, and until 1230, Leon is atill an independent Kingdom. At that time the Almohad Empire is crumbling, and Andalusis is moving toward a sort of civil disorder. See page 12 for the map, plus abbreviations and such-like.

AFRICA '82

Brian Lorber

The Rules for Diplomacy (copyright 1976, The Avalon Hill Game Co.) will be used.

2. There are 38 aupply centers. Victory is achieved ((apparently; the original text does not specify) by owning a majority (20) of tham.

"Suez" is a special space on the map. It may be occu-Units may also freely bridge the apace; fleets may pass riectly from Eas to Red (and vice versa) in one season. original text doea not specify, but it seema obvious that Suez may not be thus bypassed if it is occupied by an army or a It also seema to follow that armies and fleeta may also pass between Cairo and Sinai.))

The Great Powers are: Egypt, Libya, Madagaacar, Morocco,

Niberia, South Africa, and Zaire.

Opening positions:

A Alexandria, (A or F) Asyut, (A or F) Cairo. A Benghazi, A Marzuq, F Tripoli. CAR: F Tamatave, A Tananarive, F Tulear. EGYPT:

MADAGASCAR:

MOROCCO: A Aaiun, A Casablanca, F Rabat. WIGERIA: A Enugu, A Kano, F Lagos.

SOUTH AFRICA: A Cape Town, A Pretoria, F Johannesburg (choice of coast).

ZAIRE: (A or F) Kinshasa, A Kisangani, (A or F) Matadi.

Note: *Egypt and Zaire have choice placements. Each has l Army and 1 Fleet, and the player may choose which of the two indicated provinces each unit is to be placed into. The initial placement of units, including the units choices of Egypt and Zaire, and the coast choice of South Africa, takes place in "Winter 1982".

6. Special supply/build centers. Certain neutral supply centers may be used as build centers (new units may be built in them) if they are owned by certain Powers. These centers (and Powers) are:

a. Algeria (Libya, Morocco).

b. Angola (South Africa, Zaire).

c. Arabian Peninsula (Egypt). d. Chad (Libya, Nigeria).

e. Liberia (Morocco, Nigeria).

f. Kenya (Madagascar).

g. Mozambique (Madagascar, South Africa).

h. Sudan (Egypt, Libya).

1. Tanzania (Madagascar, Zaire).

j. Tunisia (Libya).

List of Spaces & Abbreviations in Africa 82

A list of spaces and abbreviations was promised in ANDULN, but has not yet been printed. This one shows all spaces, indicates supply centers, and provides abbreviations for those which have the same first three letters as one or more other spaces. Two space names have been slightly changed. "North Arab Republics" in the original includes Jordan and Kuwait, both monarchies, and so has been changed to "North Arab States". The original shows a "Central African Empire", but the self-styled "Emperor" was overthrown two years ago, so here the name appears simply as "Central Africa". (Also a province between Angola and Botswana is unreadable, but is the Caprivi Strip, so appears as "Caprivi" here. ... The name appears to begin with "Cas...", but no name in the entire Caprivi Strip actually begins with those lettsrs.) Supply centers are shown by the following symbols: *, Home; #, Special (Rule 6); @, Neutral.

DOWNFALL OF THE LORD OF THE RINGS AND THE RETURN OF THE KING II Robert Sacks (Ring Simulation)

((Rulea reprinted aa they appear in LORD OF HOSTS 5/6 with following rulinga and amendments from later issuea.))

-The etandard rules of Diplomacy apply sxcapt as noted below.

-Adjustment months are January, April, July, and October; the other 8 months are move months. The game begine February 1418 SR. Initial placement is:

GAMEMASTER: The Ring anywhere weat of the Andrin (Carrock to Tol-falas; ae ENTS: 2DAs & 2TAs Fangorn.

ELVEN LORDS: Gandalf anywhere: The Eagles unused; F Gray Havens; Elrond & A Rivendell; Galadriel & A Lorian.

RANGER: Aragorn in or next to Fornost; Frodo & Sam, Merry & Pip-pin in The Shire; Dead TA Laweden; Disparsed Ranger A Fornost. MORTH: Aa Dale, Erebor, Iron Hills, North Mirkwood. ROHAN: As Eastfold, Edoraa, Gap of Rohan, Helm's Deep.

GOWDOR: DA Minas Tirith; As Anfalaa, Dol Amroth, Lebennin; F Pelargir.

SARUMAN: DA leengard; A Dunland; Bairor & A Moria. HARAD-RHUN: DAa Harad, North Rhûn, South Rhûn; F Umbar.

SAURON: TA Barad-Dûr; DAa Minas Morgul, Udûn; As Dol Guldur, Nurn, South Nurn; as LORD OF THE RING: The Nazgul in Barad-Dur.

-DA=Double Army. TA=Triple Army. Multiple armies may not split their strengths into aeparate aupporta or attacka; a single attack on a multiple army cuts all ite support. Multiple ermies and fleets may not be built. Each TA may once during the game eliminate an opposing piece or unit or stack it bas attacked and which would have been dislodged. A multiple army has only single atrangth when attacking through a paes or diaembarking from e convoy. Convoy is by A/F: prior to movement each turn a fleet may load an adjacent or stacked army (single or multiple); in lieu of movement and if not attacked, a fleet may unload the army to a land space it ia in or adjacent to (without the army's con-A fleet may atack with an army of the same power, or of a power it may not attack. When in convoy, an army haa no combat value; when in stack, a fleet haa no combat value. Fleets aahore ara not dislodged but captured.

-Fangorn and Wetwang cannot be entered by armice (except for Inte). The thick heavy lines are mountaina and are impassable, except to The Nazgūl; there are 7 paesas through the mountains: Sauron may block one of the 5 numbered paasea each turn; the Paths of the Dead (PD) is closed until Aragorn moves through it; Cirith Ungol (CU) ie cloeed except to a pieca or unit or etack carrying or wearing The Ring.

-Fortresaes (circles on the map and Rivendell) are all supply centers and add l in defence of units (and Galadriel) in them. Dol Amroth, Edoras, Erebor, Helm's Deep, Minas Tirith, Moria, and Udun are ordinary fortresses. Mount Gundabad 1s a supply center for Saruman, Sauron, and the Lord of the Ring only. Rivendell and Lorien are fortresses for the Elven Lorde and the Ranger Army only. Any non-flying piece in Barad-Dûr, Dol Guldur, or I-eengard is imprisoned by an army of Saruman, Sauron, or the Lord of the Ring holding there. When vacant, Minas Morgul may only be entered by units or pieces of Saruman, Sauron, or Lord of the Rind, or Harad-Rhûn. A unit in Pelargir may veto fleet access between Lossarnach and either of Tolfalas or Ithilien; fleet accese to Minas Tirith or North Ithilien is only from each other and Lossarnach.

-The Ents, the Elven Lords, and the Ranger are not affected by supply center loes, cannot build units or take over supply centers, or put on The Ring, but on each turn their units have the option of returning to the initial owner or of neutralizing a supply center it is in. The Gamemaster playe the Ents with great restraint; they have a range of 2 spaces from Fangorn, stack with themselves, the Elven Lords, the Ranger, and Rohan (which they may not attack or be attacked by), and are activated only on need (e.g., Harsd-Rhûn is overrunning the area) and a request of high literary merit (the interchangs should make interesting press) of some piece which has moved into Fangorn.

properties: all pieces stack with each other and all units, except that any of the three Elven Lords pieces stands off The Naz-gil (and Gandalf and Elrond together can dielodge it); if a fiece supports an attack from the space it is in (on land only), it moves or retreats with the unit it was supporting (but ie not annihilated except by the TA option); no piece has any effect on supply center control; all pieces may cut each other's support (including those holbit heroes); the whereabouts of piecee not involved in combat ars not revealed. The Nazgil moves (cutting supports) or supports with a strength of 1 army, within 2 spaces of its location, and it may fly (but not remain) over water. Gandalf, Elrond, and Aragorn each may support with the strength of 1 army. Galadriel has the strength of 2 armies in defence by herself, and in addition to any fortrees she is in and any army she is with - if the Gamsmaster is not advised which powers she opposes and which she assists, he will use his own judgement. Firond and Galadriel must be in a fortress or Fangorn or accompany a unit, or proceed by the most rapid route to one of them he/she does not oppose - the Gamemaster will override an order violating thie rule. If Firond is in Rivendell, Rhudaur, or Hollin, he may selectively flood one or all of the rivers between them, blocking passage. If Gandalf meets an army of Rohan or enters a supply center controlled by Rohan, Rohan may give him a horse. Once a year (and at least 9 months after the previous call) Gandalf may call in The Eagles who may support or attack anywhere with a strength of 1 army, and he may move anywhere on the board (without his horse or The Ring). The Balrog stays in Moria, destroying any armice or pieces that enter except those of Saruman, Sauron, the Lord of the Ring, or Herad-Rhūn; it mutually eliminates with one of the three Elven Lords pieces al-

-The Ranger Army, the Dead TA (when activated), Aragorn, and Gandalf (when he has a horse from Rohan) have a Double Impulse - they make two consecutive moves each turn (including standoffs, except they cannot stand off a unit after first moving to the space it began its turn on by then moving to the space the unit was ordered to). The dispersed Ranger army defends each vacant supply center adjacent to the space it is in with strength 1 in each; it is activated as a move by agreement of the Elven Lords and the Ranger; it disperses after reatreat. While the Dead TA is inactive it cuts all support from Lamdeon, and adds strength 1 to any unit holding in Lamedon. When Aragorn and the Ranger Army pass through the Paths of the Dead Into Lamedon, the move automatically succeeds, and the Dead TA is activated until 1 year elapses or it fights at Minas Tirith; it cannot enter or attack into Mordor. When Aragorn and the Dead TA arrive at Minas Tirith, he takes over Gondor, may capture supply centers, and may build at Fornost and Lamedon (which now become ordinary supply centers) or any of Gondor's controlled home centers; he now is affected by supply center loss (but the Dead TA is always supplied, and the Ranger Army is always considered to be supplied by Fornost even if it has been captured). The Ranger Army stacks with the Dead TA and the armies of the Elvsn Lords, Ents, Rohan, and (after he takes it over) Gondor.

-The Lord of the Ring (whoever is wearing The Ring; otherwise Sauron) controls The Nazgūl; he and Harad-Rhūn cannot dislodge each other or capture the other's supply centers; he cannot give or receive any support, or participate in convoys, or stack with fleets of any player except Harad-Rhūn (convoys and fleets in violation of this are destroyed); if he drops Tho Ring (except for Sauron) he goes into CD.

-The Ring never goes over a body of water. A dislodged army drops The Ring; a successful supported attack on a piece carrying The Ring causes it to drop. Picking up The Ring, or putting it on, or throwing it into Orodruin, takes a turn. If two players come across The Ring a piecs (not in the party which dropped it) has priority over a unit - otherwise no one picks it up. If a player has a multiple army, he may not put The Ring on with a lesser unit. A player is told the location of The Ring if he discovers it in a space he has a unit or pisce in; all players are told when it is put on. If a player puts on The Ring, Sauron's DAs become single armies and his TA becomes a DA. If Saruman puts on The Ring, all his existing armies become DAs. If Rohan puts on The Ring, he losss protection from combat and stacking with the Ents and the Ranger Army. If Sauron's TA (even if rsduced) is eliminated his DAs reduce and hs goes into CD.

-Sauron wins by putting on The Ring. A playsr not Saruman, Sauron, the Lord of the Ring, or Harad-Rhûn wins by throwing The Ring into Oroduin (and the Elven Lords win also). Any player controlling all supply centers except for units beseiged in fortresses or other small closed positions wins. (The Lord of the Ring and Harad-Rhûn may also achieve a joint victory.)

AMENDMENTS AND GM RULINGS:

-From Lon #8:

-Ordinary fleets may be built, just no multiple fleets.

-The Seas of Rhun and Nurnen have no effect on the game.
-The TA elimination option applies to pieces which would have been dislodged if pieces could be dislodged. Since pieces not involved in combat are not ordinarily revealed, a TA with this option will be advised if it meets a piece.

-The Balrog is stronger than Ents.

-From LoH #9:

-Isengard is a double valued supply center for Saruman.

-An alliance victory is only possible for the Elven Lords, Ranger/Gondor, Rohan and North if the other three are eliminated or concede. Of course there is always moral victory.

-Gondor can put on the Ring; the Ranger cannot. If Gondor puts on the Ring and then the Ranger takes over Gondor, the Ring is no longer worn, merely carried. The Ranger can take over Gondor even if it is in CD because it has put on snd dropped The Ring. The Ranger cannot put on the Ring even after he has taken over Gondor. If Aragorn is eliminated (TA option) before he takes over Gondor, be may still have the Ranger Army and the two Hobbit teams, but no longer has the options of the Paths of the Dead, the Dead Army, or to take over Gondor. After he takes over Gondor, play continues with Ranger and Gondor combined. the first caso Halbarad would have led the Dunsdain, in the second Imrahil would have led the hosts of Gondor and the West.) When the Dead TA is deactivated, it disappears. When Aragorn takes over Gondor, the Ranger Army remains dispersable, but only ordinary armiss may be built. Fornost and Lamedon become regular Gondor supply centers; before only Fornost was, and then for only the Ranger Army. The second impulse for double impulse units may be conditional, and retreat is possible after each impulse (though other rules may intervene).

-Gandalf can call on the Eagles whils imprisoned to get While imprisoned, he (or any other piece) can only try to free. escape (move out). A piece cuts an ensmy piece's support if they occupy the same space by being there, or by moving to that space as in ordinary Diplomacy. When Elrond/Galsdriel procsed by the most rapid route to s fortrese, or Fangorn, or accompany a unit, that is only if he/ehs is not slready with one of them. Flooding around the Rivendell area blocks passage of whatever Elrond specifies (possibly everything). When the Balrog mutually eliminstes with an Elven Lord, it does not kill anything else; the Balrog acts sutomatically, not under orders from Saruman, Sauron, or ths Lord of the Ring (vice versa would be far more likely!).

-Units in Pelargir can veto fleet access between Loesarnsch and Tolfalas, which are adjacent! Lebennin and Lossarnsch are not adjacent by coast. Armies can move across the Anduin where it forms a border between spaces without fleet help. hindered by enemy flests exactly as in ordinary Diplomacy.

-From LoH #10:
-Insufficient players: 8 players and a GM is a large number, so in the event that there are fewer than 8 players at the beginning of the game, certain mengsrs will have to take place; in sach case, units of different powers played by the same player do dislodge each other, unless the rules specifically provide otherwise - however, for victory purposes, units of different powers played by the same player are one force.
-With only 7 players, the Lord of the Ring (or if there is none, the last person to have been Lord of the Ring) plays Harad-Rhun. -With only 6, the above, and Rohan plays Gondor (until the Ranger takes over).

-With only 5, the above, and Rohan also plays the North. -With only 4, the above, and the Renger plays the Elven Lords.

In all cases s GM is needed, and he plays the Ents.

-The Balrog: On each movement turn while the Balrog exists, Saruman may activate it. If the Balrog is not active, it has no effect that move at all. If the Balrog is active and any Elven Lords pisces or the Nazgul piece is in Moria, the Balrog mutually annihilatee with those pieces (Gandalf, of course, is resurrected) and leavee the game; otherwise the Balrog annihilates any and all other units and pieces in Moria, without regard to alignment or nationality, and, after retreats, deactivates, in the process restoring Moria to Saruman.

-Clarification: Fleets ashore are not dislodged by armies but captured; fleets ashore are dislodged by fleets.

-Pisces supporting a unit move with that unit (on land) whether or not they etarted in the same space, unless stood off. That is, pieces support by being there - armies and fleets support as usual.

((Apparently no further rulings or amendments were made to the Downfall...II rules. My run of Sacksishes of LoH ends with #12, during which time several seasons of the ongoing postal game were played without further comment.))

ISSUES OF LORD OF HOSTS WANTED

For research purposes, the N.A.V.B. would like to aquire all isues of LGRD OF HOSTS. Our current collection includes ##1-12, published by Robert Sacks. Plus one issue published by Mike Smollin, dated July 1979. Plus 4 issues published by Greg Costikyan; two dated #79-2 and #80-1, two undated issues which appeared in November 1980 and April 1981. We presume the only issues we are missing appeared after #12 (Feb 1977) and before the July 1979 issue, which would have been published by Robert Sacks or by Mike Smolin. Anyone having these specific issues is requested to contact us. We will pay any and sll reasonable costs involved in copying the missing issues and mailing the copies to us. We regret having to make this appeal, since Robert Sacks could easily supply our needs, but two yesrs' worth of repeated requests for help have produced no reply at sll, much less even a refusal.

THE MILLER NUMBER CUSTODIAN

is John Leeder, 605 NW 15th St., Calgary, Alberta, CANADA T2N 2Bl. Variant GMs are requested to send all gsme-start and game completion information to John for publication in LORD OF HOSTS (and of course for assignment of a Miller Number). John would also like to trade LOH for variant 'zines or 'zines carrying variant games...with the understanding that LOH does not appear regularly nor frequently. We urge your support of this hobby institution which keeps tabs on variant games and publishes information about them in a central source. Requests for Miller Number for new games should be accompanied by a self-addressed envelope and Canadian postage (or equivalent) for most rapid response. LOH is also available by subscription (@ cost per issue; send a couple of bucks or so to start & John will keep books).
